About Rumburk

The town of Rumburk can be found in the most northern part of the Czech republic. The surrounding is mainly hilly country with pure nature. Its characterization is also made up by the isolated hills in the surrounding that gives you many chances for the trips. The whole region is a great place for cycling lovers as well as keen tourists and in winter there are many trails for cross-country skiing. Not far from Rumburk you can find the hill Dymník with the look out of the same name and the restaurant where you can have an amazing view of the wide surrounding area that is also called "the Czech Netherlands". The name means the antithesis of the "upper country" that is situated in the south and southeast, behind the edges of Lužické mountains with the dominating features you know from the postcards such as Jedlová, Pinkavěí hill and Luž. At the same time it also expresses the character of the whole scenery.
